It is vital that we vote our values, so I'll be voting column 1 for Sherylann Tambornino, Tanya Grissett, and Vanessa Persaud this November.

As a sitting board member, I know the passion and dedication that must be exhibited to endure this position. Collectively, they have spent the past decade giving back to the community as parents, PTA members and board members.

These 3 women will bring vision, expertise, and dedication to our public schools. I know that they want every child in our town to have the same support and success that they desire for their children and grandchildren, who are students in our district. Together, we will ensure that safety is our top priority and vow to work with our city and county counterparts to create the safest environment possible.

To date, Sherlann, Tanya and Vanessa have been hard at work gathering input from parents, teachers and other citizens about what they think is working and what isn't in our schools. They will be very open to input from a wide array of sources if elected. They do not claim to have all the answers, and know that we need input from all stakeholders for our children to succeed. We are lucky to have such outstanding community members and public servants standing for election to the School Board.

For all of these reasons, I hope you'll join me in giving Sherlann, Tanya and Vanessa your vote for school board representation on Election Day.

It is time to take Politics out of Education and put our children first.

Who better to make decisions on behalf of your children than Mothers!

Vote Column 1!

Respectfully and sincerely,

Ahmed Shehata
